Introduction

1. Background

This bulletin contains Local Authority and school level information for the academic year 2005/06 showing, for each London borough, the maintained mainstream secondary schools (including middle deemed), City Technology Colleges and Academies attended by secondary school pupils resident in London in January 2006. It does not include pupils attending other schools in the independent sector, although the numbers of pupils attending independent schools are shown in table 1.

The purpose of the bulletin is to bring together and make available to a wider audience a single comprehensive picture of the supply and demand of secondary school places across London using data from the School Census undertaken in January 2006. From January 2002 onwards maintained primary, secondary and special schools, as well as City Technology Colleges, have reported data at an individual pupil level. In January 2003 the pupil level coverage expanded to include non-maintained special schools and Academies.

The bulletin provides information by region, Local Authority and school and includes regional and Local Authority summaries in addition to the detailed school level tables and maps. This material is available separately from the DfES and on the web site www.dfes.gov.uk/rsgateway. Explanations of the definitions and categories used in this bulletin are given in the "Technical Notes" section.

Technical Notes

The information in this bulletin has been taken from the School Census undertaken in January 2006. The School Census is collected and managed by the DfES containing individual information for pupils attending schools in England. From January 2002 onwards maintained primary, secondary and special schools, as well as city technology colleges, have reported data at an individual pupil level. In January 2003 the pupil level coverage expanded to include non-maintained special schools and academies.

More information about the School Census can be obtained from the following website:
<http://www.teachernet.gov.uk/management/ims/datacollections/scplasc2006/>

1. Main Types of School

i. Middle Schools

Middle schools take children from first schools and generally lead on, in turn, to comprehensive upper schools. They cover varying age ranges between 8 and 14. Depending on their age range they are deemed either primary or secondary. This bulletin includes pupils aged 11-14 who attend middle deemed secondary schools.

ii. Secondary Schools

Secondary education is provided mainly in three types of school, the secondary modern, the secondary grammar and the comprehensive school.

There are also a small and decreasing numbers of technical schools.

2. Main Categories of School

The schools included in this bulletin may be divided administratively and financially into the following broad categories.

i. Mainstream state schools

Under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998, four categories: Community, Foundation, Voluntary Controlled and Voluntary Aided replaced, from 1 September 1999, the previous 5 categories of mainstream state school: county, controlled, special agreement, aided and grant-maintained (GM). Schools in all the four categories have a lot in common. They work in partnership with other schools and with Local Authorities, and they receive funding from Local Authorities. But each category also has its own characteristics.

Community schools: Community schools are very similar to former county schools. The Local Authority employs the school's staff, owns the school's land and buildings and has primary responsibility for deciding the arrangements for admitting pupils.

Foundation schools: At Foundation schools, the governing body employs the school's staff and has primary responsibility for admission arrangements. The school's land and buildings are owned by the governing body or by a charitable foundation.

Voluntary Aided schools: Voluntary Aided schools are similar to former aided schools. The governing body employs the school's staff and has primary responsibility for admission arrangements. The school's land and buildings are normally owned by a charitable foundation. The governing body contributes towards the capital costs of running the school.

Voluntary Controlled schools: Voluntary controlled schools are very similar to former controlled schools. The Local Authority employs the school's staff and has primary responsibility for admission arrangements. The school's land and buildings are normally owned by a charitable foundation.

ii. City Technology Colleges

These take the form of a charitable company limited by guarantee. The sponsors constitute an educational trust and will own or lease the college and appoint their representatives to the Board of Governors. The members of a CTC will consist of nominees of the sponsoring company and the Secretary of State. When a CTC is opened it will be registered as an independent school. In this bulletin CTCs are included in the tables alongside mainstream state schools and academies. In January 2006, there were 11 CTCs, of which 4 were located in London.

iii. Academies

These are all ability schools established by sponsors from business, faith or voluntary groups working in highly innovative partnerships with central Government and local education partners. Sponsors and the Department for Education and Skills (DfES) provide the capital costs for the academy. Running costs are met in full by the DfES. Each Academy will be set up as a company limited by guarantee with charitable status and will have a board of governors responsible for the governance and strategic leadership of the school. In this bulletin Academies are included in the tables alongside mainstream state schools and CTCs. In January 2006, there were 27 Academies, of which 14 were located in London.

3. Validation and quality assurance

The School Census data go through various levels of checking. Schools input the data into their Management Information Systems (MIS). The MIS software has built in validation ensuring data are input in a consistent format. The validated School Census returns are sent via the Local Authority to the DfES. Validation software routines including checks against previous years returns to ensure historical consistency are applied by the DfES, before the return is finalised and accepted. Queries flagged by the validation checks are referred back to the Local Authority to be resolved.

4. Geographic Referencing

The pupil home postcode data collected via School Census were used in the geographic referencing carried out by the DfES using reference data provided by ONS. The following geography products were used to reference data:

ONS – National Statistics Postcode Directory (NSPD) -this linked postcodes to the codes of administrative geographies in England and Wales. The directory used in the production of this bulletin was the May 2006 extract of the NSPD.

The results from the geographic referencing were as follows:

Total No. of pupils aged 11 – 15	2,930,710
No. of records matched:	2,919,308 (99.6%)
No. of records with missing postcodes:	469 (0.02%)
No. of records with invalid postcodes:	10,933 (0.37%)

Unmatched records (with missing and invalid postcodes) are not included in the 'Totals' within this bulletin.

5. Statistical Disclosure Control

The National Statistics Code of Practice requires that reasonable steps should be taken to ensure that all published or disseminated statistics produced by the DfES protect confidentiality. Whilst this bulletin is not a National Statistics publication the information presented complies with the National Statistics Code of Practice and associated protocols.

Every effort has been made to ensure the data do not allow the identification of individuals. To protect confidentiality the following conventions have been used throughout this publication:

- Low counts have been suppressed and replaced by x.
- Negligible percentages, those less than 0.05%, have been suppressed and replaced by a hyphen (-).
- 0 is shown only when the true value is 0

6. Density Maps Methodology

The maps of pupil population density were generated by dividing the area of extent of pupil residences into a grid of 50m squares. Each square was given a value for population density according to the average pupil density within a radius of 250m from that square. These densities were then banded into ranges, and coloured according to the magnitude of the density (light being lowest or zero, dark being highest). This leads to a certain amount of 'fuzziness' in the results, which protects individuals from having their home locations revealed. As a side effect of this fuzziness the density 'contours' may extend slightly beyond the borders of the LA, and are sharply cut off at the limit of the extent of the available data.

7. Coverage

This publication includes pupils solely registered and main registration of dually registered pupils, aged 11 – 15 at 31 Aug 2005, who attend maintained mainstream secondary schools (including middle deemed secondary), City Technology Colleges and Academies. Pupils reported to be boarders are now excluded which differs from the coverage used for the 2004 publication.
